

Cookies Policy

Prointel S.L with the own account or a third party contracted to provide measurement services, they may use cookies when the user browses the website. Cookies are files sent to the browses through a web services in order to record the activities during their browser.

The used of cookies are only associated with an anonymous user and their computer, and do not provide by themselves the user's personal data. By using cookies it is possible that the server, where the website is locate, recognize the web browsers used by the user with the purpose of facilitating the navigation. They are also use to measure the audience and the traffic parameters, control the process and the number of entries.

Users can configure your browser to be notified the reception of cookies and to prevent its installation on your computer. Please consult the instructions and manuals of your browser in order to expand this information.

Para utilizar el sitio web no es necesario que el usuario permita la instalación de las cookies enviadas al sitio web, o el tercero que actúe en su nombre, sin perjuicio de que sea necesario que el usuario inicie una sesión tal en cada uno de los servicios cuya prestación requiera el previo registro.

In order to use this website it is not necessary for the user to allow the installation of cookies sent by the Web Site, or third parties acting on their behalf, notwithstanding that it is necessary the user log on to it in each of the services that requires prior registration.

In any case, the cookies are temporary in nature with the sole purpose of making their subsequent transmission more efficient. Under no circumstance cookies will be use for gather any personal information.